University Link Program

Providence Country Day School & Dean College

Welcome to Providence Country Day School, where CTM Education has created a unique private day school experience with exposure to university campus life and university advanced credit.

Students will attend Providence Country Day School as local day students and enjoy all the benefits of a US high school education, while living in the dormitories of nearby Dean College and experiencing the active lifestyle of a college campus. Students will also have the opportunity to attend a college course to receive advanced university credit and will be guaranteed placement at a US university after graduation.

Students will be highly supervised and live in exclusive dormitories on the Dean College campus with full time Dorm Parents to assist with their daily needs. Students will have full access to campus amenities and will enjoy meals in the campus Dining Center.
