Special Features

Menlo College is a small, private, non-profit Silicon Valley school with a mission to focus on business education with a strong liberal arts emphasis. Its AACSB designation puts Menlo College among the top 5% of business schools worldwide. With such small class sizes, students are able to regularly interact with professors one-on-one through advising and extracurricular activities, leading to a top undergraduate business school ranking.

Recognition

Menlo College has been named as one of the "Best Colleges in the West" by the Princeton Review for 7 years running, and "Best Regional College" by the US News & World Report for the past 5 years.

Academic Opportunities

The cutting-edge curriculum at Menlo College kicks off with a freshman Innovation Challenge and culminates with a senior Capstone Project. Students have the opportunity to build their professional networks through interactions with guest speakers in the classroom, as well as through the many programs offered by Career Services. With its excellent location in Silicon Valley, Menlo College offers internship opportunities in some of the top tech companies in the area, including Apple, Google, and Facebook.
